TORONTO TIDINGS

In return for the kindness shown him during his month's sojourn with us, Mr. David Bayne, before leaving for his home in Ottawa, entertained a little party to lunch at the Carls Rite Hotel on May 7th, and those who were there declare David to be a royal entertainer.

Mr. Shilton spoke on the crowning of the sixteen years old King Uziah and of the ascension to the throne of King Jotham, when 25 years old. Also of the reign of the twenty year old King Ahas for sixteen years. Hezekiah became king at 25, and reigned in Palestine for 29 years.

A conference of the Catholic Fraternity of the Deaf was in session at Loretto Abbey here from May 10th to 16th.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Roberts, accompanied by their niece, Miss Mildred Squirrel, spent the week-end of May 9th with relatives at Woodbridge.

Mrs. John A. Moynihan and daughter, Miss Beverly, of Waterloo, were in this city for a few days lately, visiting friends and consulting Dr. Lowey, the famous oculist, in regard to the former's impaired eyesight.

At our church on Mother's Day, May 10th, a very interesting programme was carried out. Mrs. Henry Whealy gave a short talk on the love of a mother and also a motherly song. Mrs. W. R. Watt rendered a Mother's Carol, Mrs. J. R. Byrne gave a well merited address on the duties of a mother. Mr. P. Fraser gave a similar talk of a father's influence. Miss Evelyn Hazlitt added a few words how happy she found life within the sphere of a mother's influence and love. The service closed with Doxology, led by Frank E. Doyle. A feature of the service was a gathering on the platform of young mothers with their smiling little offspring.

In an exhibition game of soft ball played at Exhibition Park on May 9th, between the team of the T. A. D., and a strong city team, our boys came out the victors to the tune of 21 to 12. Mr. David Lawrence pitched for our team with Mr. James Tate catching.

The Board of Trustees of our church held their May meeting on the 11th. Mr. Asa Forrester succeeds Mr. Charles R. Ford as Secretary and church clerk, as Mr. Ford has removed to Detroit. Messrs. George Brethour and Ewart Hall were taken on as probationers, and Supt. J. R. Byrne, who has filled the chair for a year, was unanimously endorsed and commended for his earnest work in the cause of the Board.

While visiting here lately, Mrs. John A. Moynihan, of Waterloo, favored the large audience at our church with a short but interesting address on the love and traits of a true mother, and concluded with a rendition of a beautiful song befitting the day.

A new invocation in our Sunday School work will be introduced after the first of July, when several of our leading ladies will occasionally lead in teaching the S. S. lessons. Such a custom was in vogue a few years ago, but was dropped out, hence its review now.

Mrs. John A. Moynihan, of Waterloo, was one of the delegates to the conference of the Catholic Fraternity during the week of May 10th-17th.

It was stated recently that Mr. Charles R. Ford had failed to get work in Detroit, but since then better luck has turned the tide, and now Charles is busy slinging type in the "Automobile City" at good pay. Whether he will send for his family is yet unknown.

Mr. and Mrs. William Quinlan, of Stratford, were in the city for a week, visiting relatives and friends and taking in the Catholic assembly.

Wedding bells will soon be ringing "Just East of the flowing Don."

A very pleasant and long to be remembered event took place at the home of Miss Falls, on Brunswick Avenue, where the Misses Annie and Bella Mathison were staying, on May 12th, when Miss A. Mathison was presented by her admiring and grateful friends with an address and a most exquisite and expensive large lady's purse, inside of which were several smaller purses for holding car tickets, loose coin, hair pins, perfume, etc. On the outside were the initials "A. M." in gold letters. It was a gift from her closest friends among the deaf, and more especially her S. S. friends, Miss Mathison, who never dreamed of such an outburst of gratitude, was completely taken by surprise and visibly affected as evident by the tears that filled her eyes, and it was some little time before she could gain her composure to heartily thank her thoughtful friends, in which she found it difficult to find such sufficient words to express her gratitude, saying would be a pleasant reminder to her in all her travels abroad. Here is the address that was given her, which speaks for itself. The Misses Mathison left on May 14th, for Montreal, en route for a long sojourn abroad.

TORONTO, May 12, 1925.

OUR DEAR MISS MATHISON—It was with much surprise and tinged with regret that we heard of your going from our midst to fields afar, which means, at least for the present, the severance of the valuable work you were always wont to do among us. Your going away will mean the absence of your pleasant smiles and sisterly countenance amongst us, especially in our Sunday School, where you have labored so incessantly for so many years, with a fervent heart embold in your noble work, a trait you have, no doubt, inherited from your much lamented and illustrious father, whose love and devotion to our cause we cannot and never shall forget. During these long years you have unfailingly devoted to our Sunday School and other work. You have always borne that sunny disposition and cheery smile that is so characteristic of your countenance, and now with your going, we will have some cause to regret. We know it is a mistake to be selfish and though loath to part with you, we cannot let the occasion pass without not only thanking you for your past service, but humbly ask you to accept this as a little token of the great love and admiration we have of you and wherever you go or whatever you do, may the All Providing and Ever Guiding Hand—that never errs nor forgetteth—be with you forevermore.

LONDON LEAVES
Mr. and Mrs. William J. Quinlan, of Stratford, motored up to this city on the afternoon of Saturday, May 2d, and spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gould, Jr., leaving for home in the evening.

Mr. John F. Fisher spent a recent week end with his mother and other relatives in Hamilton, returning with his wife, who had been down on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Joseph Taylor, for a week previous.

On May 2d Mr. George Moore went up to Forest to attend the funeral of an uncle, and returned on the evening train of May 4th.

The death occurred on Thursday, April 29th, of Mr. Albert J. Noyes, at his home, in Denfield, in his 56th year. He is survived by his wife and family. He was a brother of Andrew and John Noyes, Mrs. John Pincombe and Mrs. G. A. W. Gustin. Interment was made in the Anglican Church Cemetery at Denfield. We extend sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Miss Sadie Hodgins has arrived home after spending a month with an aunt in Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., then she went for a week's visit to an Uncle in Lucan.

Mr. Howard Lloyd, of Brantford, was up here and gave an interesting account of his war experiences—a continuance of his previous narrative, and next day gave a very instructive sermon to a large gathering of the deaf. He spoke Saturday night, in a room at All Saints' Church and on Sunday, at the Y. M. C. A.

In a recent issue of your paper the omission, was made in regard to the party, given in honor of Miss Blanche Brewer by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gould, Jr., prior to this estimable young lady's departure for Bothwell. On this occasion her friends presented her with a beautiful gold eversharp pencil, as a token of the love and affection they have for her. Miss Brewer was deeply affected and heartily thanked all for such loving kindness.

After a week's sojourn with her parents and other relatives here, Miss Beulah Gould, sister of Mr. W. H. Gould, Jr., left for her home in Windsor on May 10th. She is to be married to a young Windsor man this June.

GENERAL GLEANINGS

Mrs. Ursula Johnson, of Barrie, is still holding her own though bedridden. She is often longing to see friends, whose presence in her home is always comforting.

We have just received particulars of the funeral of the late, Mrs. John W. Gee, who died in Cupar, Sask., on Easter Sunday. St. Mary's Church of that place could not hold the vast throng that tried to get in to pay their last respects to the deceased. A glowing tribute to the Christian zeal, motherly devotion to her children, and kindly disposition of the late Mrs. Gee was paid by the pastor, the Rev. E. H. Lee. Her children are A. S. Gee, William Gee of Cupar, Frank Gee and Albert Gee, of Houghton, Sask., and Mrs. Charles Kennedy, of London.

We hear that Miss Mary McQueen, of Guelph, was out in Moorefield for a week lately, visiting relatives and friends and had a pleasant time.

Mr. Henry Scott of St. Wallburg is now employed on a large farm near Spruce Lake, Sask., and doing very well.

Mr. James Chambers, of Silver Hill, was lately out on a visit to friends in Simcoe.

HERBERT W. ROBERTS.

What "We" Are Doing.

We are living in an age of intellectual pride which takes as little heed of its futile vanities as of its paradoxical pursuit of gross humiliations. Few of us stop to consider that it was the brain of the average fallen man that has given us the printing press, the cotton gin, the smelter and the anvil, the engine and the dynamo, the telegraph and the telephone, the trans-Atlantic line and the aeroplane, the microscope and the telescope. We employ these majestic discoveries as if they were our own; as if they had been given to us by a comparatively few geniuses standing as solitary luminaries above and beyond the average mass of fallen humanity. The poet Longfellow must have had some such thought in mind when, referring to the mother of Christ, he penned the line, "Our tainted nature's solitary boast."

How prone we are to boast of "our" enlightenment. Have "we" not conquered the elements; have "we" not harnessed the lightning; have "we" not turned thundering Niagara into funnels, sweeping her mighty energies through turbines into factory and rail; have "we" not analyzed motion, throwing its broken parts upon a screen; have "we" not exposed the mechanism of flight, the bursting of the bud, the scavenging drive of antibodies; have "we" not caught the human voice, compelling it to dwell in a disc until released from its prison at your bidding; have "we" not tracked to death invisible organisms that destroyed millions of our forefathers; have "we" not discovered the bacillus of typhoid (1879), the bacillus of tuberculosis (1882), the vibrio of Asiatic cholera (1883), the bacilli of lockjaw and diphtheria (1884), bacillus of bubonic plague (1864); have "we" not developed a system of antiseptic and aseptic surgery, even though there are hundreds of millions who never heard of Pasteur, Lister, Koch; have "we" not taken Jules Verne at his word by voyaging twenty thousand times twenty thousand leagues under the sea and in the air; with no intervening wire, have "we" not flashed communications from shore to shore; have "we" not compelled the soil to yield its secrets and from the bowels of the earth have "we" not mobilized the forces of radium; have "we" not smashed the atom; have "we" not made war an abyss of horror; have "we" who have done these things not proved to ourselves how wonderfully "we" have advanced from the stage-coach days of our grandfathers.—McCann.

SEATTLE.

Twelve years old Dora Haire has joined the Camp Fire Girls, and like an industrious young Miss she made a big sale of candy at the pie sale social, in the basement of the Lutheran Church of Our Redeemer.

Mrs. Geo. Reilly and her little girl came down from Victoria to see her sister, who was visiting in Seattle, but lives in San Francisco. They took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. True Partridge before returning to their Canadian home. Mr. and Mrs. Reilly will attend our convention next July.

After working for fourteen years at the Troy Laundry as a night watchman, Claude Ziegler is now employed with a hard wood flooring concern.

Sam Schneider has discontinued his shoe shine business and secured a position at brush factory, through the aid of Rev. Geo. W. Gaertner. E. W. Brown is also working there, having quit the barber trade, after working at it for some thirty years.

Rev. Gaertner is helping the deaf find situations, being well acquainted among factories, mills and many other business concerns.

Hugo A. Holcombe took passage for San Francisco, April 28th, on the H. F. Alexander, the speed queen of the Pacific Coast, to be away a month, visiting his uncle and aunt and to meet his old friends and schoolmates. Hugo attended the Berkeley school years ago.

The Partridges have sold their suburban house in Bryn Mawr, and are contemplating some improvements on their Caulfield Avenue home. True is a prosperous man these days.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Root had an informal dinner and an evening luncheon recently, in honor of Lawrence Belser. Those present, besides the host and hostess and the guest of honor, were Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. Bertha Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bertram, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Wright and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Reeves and daughter, Alice.

At the pie auction sale, managed by the Lutheran Ladies' Aid, auctioneer Oscar Sanders cleared up all of the 16 various home-made pies in a short time. Among the games most enjoyed by all was telling stories without spelling a word. Those who stumbled and paid a fine were Rex Oliver, of Everett, and Harold Harris. Prizes in the form of a box of chocolates was given each to Oscar Sanders and Edwin Johnson, for their best answers to some puzzles. Doughnuts, made by John Bodley, the only Seattle deaf baker, and coffee were served.

Eugene W. Brown and Frank Morrissey were tendered a surprise birthday party the other night, by a number of their Ballard friends, who presented them useful gifts. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Brown.

Miss Mary Kitzl and Harold Harris are another couple of our popular young friends who are engaged to be married. Wedding bells will be ringing for five couples, all Washington State products, with the exception of three people.

Last Sunday the Puget Sound writer and the family motored 80 miles, on a newly constructed highway, to the Greenwater River, on the north side of Mt. Rainier, to the National Park, which is two thirds the distance from Seattle of the other famous camping ground, on the south side with the magnificent Paradise Inn. They are building the road eight miles farther up the mountains and going to put up a commodious inn and camping grounds. It will be one of Seattle's favorite summer resorts.

The scenery along the route is simply grand, with natural wonders and a continually changing panorama of beauty. By the California report, we see that our State leads in expenditure for new highways on this coast and in the northwest—$23.55 in construction for each licensed vehicle.

The results of the election of officers for the Ladies' Aid at the Lutheran Church were: President, Mrs. Pauline Gustin; Vice President, Miss Mabel Holstrom; Secretary, Mrs. Wright; and Treasurer, Mrs. Root. At the close of the meeting sandwiches and coffee were served by the committee, Mrs. Reeves, Mrs. Haire and Miss Holstrom.

The Lutheran members appointed a committee, composed of W. S. Root, A. W. Wright and W. E. Brown, to arrange the first picnic of the season to be held at Madison Park Saturday, June 20th. Friends of the members will be welcome.

The auto of Robert Rogers, of Ellensburg, while on the new canyon road, enroute to Yakima, was struck by a big speed car that nearly caused a wreck. As it was, his mother was thrown against the side of the machine and sustained injuries that kept her in bed a few days. The other car sped on without stopping, and Robert failed to ascertain the license number.

READING, PA.

Wednesday, May 6th, a social was held by the Berks County Branch, P. S. A. D. Refreshments were served, and the fair sized crowd made possible a nice sum for the local treasury, which will come in handy in the purchase of the new home at Torresdale. Every little bit helps.

We are sorry to report the serious illness of Mrs. Raymond Fritz. She is a hearing woman, but has always taken deep interest in the activities of the deaf in Reading. Mr. Fritz is a well known tailor, employed by the Goodlow Company. It is hoped that by the time, this reaches the readers, Mrs. Fritz will have fully recovered. Nature of illness unknown.

Mr. John A. Roach was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Ritchie, May 9th-10th. He took in the Frat meeting, after which he was driven through a boulevard to the Pagoda, where a magnificent view of the city by night could be had. Mr. Roach not being addicted to cross wording, it remained for Mr. Ritchie's car to add a new word to his vocabulary. On returning the muffler became disconnected, and was dragging beneath the car for some time before being detected. Except for fifteen minutes time to disconnect muffler, no inconvenience was caused, due to all the participants being deaf, though the car certainly had the right of way due to the noise, it created, and the word, "Muffler," will long linger in the memory of Mr. Roach, so he said.

Sunday, May 10th, a party of nine, viz.: Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Ritchie, Miss Elizabeth Ahrens, Messrs. John A. Roach, Elmer Ely, Paul Albert, Harry Weaver, Harry Sommer and Sylvester Hoshaver, motored to Ephrata, Cornwall and Schaffersburg, Pa., where they called on Mr. Otto C. Herold, proprietor of the Pilgrims Inn, a former instructor in drawing at Mt. Airy. Mr. Herold was glad to see his old pupils and delighted in showing them around the place. He has beautifully remodeled an old log cabin, over one hundred fifty years old, into a tea and refreshment house. Here he spends his summers, going to Philadelphia for the winter. The scenery and weather made the trip a most delightful one.

Mr. Clement Parlamen arrived from California, where he had been visiting his daughter, primarily in quest of health. However the western climate did not seem to benefit him, hence his return.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Ritchie and Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Gromis took in an excursion to Washington, D. C., May 3d. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Alley and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Allen. Mr. Alley used his brand new Ford Sedan to good advantage in driving his guests around the city and to Arlington Cemetery. Due to the brand of hospitality extended, the stay was altogether too short.

Rev. F. C. Smielau is scheduled to lecture, May 16th, for the benefit of the local mission. Refreshments will be served, and a large crowd is looked for, since the Rev. gentleman usually delivers good goods, worth while, and far in excess of the value placed upon them. E. C. R.

AKRON, OHIO.

John Cherry, accompanied by his brother, William Cherry, motored to Columbus Sunday for a visit with his daughter, Helen, at the Ohio State School for the Deaf.

The Akron Chapter of St. John's Sodality held a well attended and financially successful card party on Sunday April 26th. Lotto and "500" were the features, and were played from 7:30 till 9:30. Miss Clara Hackman had charge of the affair, in which she was ably assisted by Mrs. Art Shaw. After the games a luncheon was served by Mrs. R. Lichty and Mrs. M. P. Dolan. James Gilby, Youngstown, was among those present.

Mrs. M. Murdock left Tuesday for Atlanta, Ga., where she will be the guest of her parents for the summer.

The entertainment conducted by the Akron Advance Society on Saturday evening, at Firestone Club house, proved a huge success.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Reinhold moved into the new home at 20 Charles Street from N. Howard Street Saturday.

The Silent football team gave a social Saturday evening, May 9th, at 41 Mill Street. Proceeds went to the football fund.

The many friends of C. M. Thompson will regret to learn that he is confined to his home by injuries received Tuesday, while he was working on a mold at Goodyear.

George Winch is doing some carpenter work on the property of M. P. Dolan, Canton Road, this week.

Paul Wickersham, a young product of Indiana, recently secured employment as farm hand on the Ewart farm at East Moreland.

Miss Edna Beisel left April 22d for Rebeck, Pa., where she has been called by the illness of a brother. He died early in the day before she arrived. Miss Beisel may remain at home, as her father continues in failing health.

Rev. J. M. Koehler, Olyphant, Pa., and ex-missionary to the deaf of Pennsylvania, was in Akron Friday evening, and gave a talk, on his 50 years' experience as a minister, to a large crowd of deaf people at St. Paul's Episcopal Protestant Church. He related the trials of the late Rev. Austin W. Mann and himself being endured in covering their fields as missionaries. They had a hard life in early years and their compensation was only $400 a year, which was not enough to pay their grocery bills or defray railway fare or hotel bills. Mr. Koehler has crossed the Atlantic ocean six times. He also told of his interesting experiences and observations on his trips to Europe. The talk was much enjoyed by the congregation.

The speaker was born in Ohio, but later his parents moved to Pennsylvania.

The following is taken from the East Akron, Ohio, Review:

The first deaf-mute school west of New England was established within two miles of the present-day limits of East Akron.

This school was started near Tallmadge in 1837, only 20 years after Rev. David Bacon felled and trimmed logs for the first cabin in the township. In spite of its very humble start (it opened with only three pupils) the Tallmadge school was the cornerstone of the present State Institution at Columbus.

The school owed its inception indirectly to a family who moved into the district with three deaf and dumb children. The settlers of Tallmadge were determined on two subjects: Religion and education. For an adult to be without religion or a child without schooling, of some sort, at least would have been, in the eyes of the good settlers an insufferable blight on the community.

As a consequence, the settlement put its collective heads together and decided that educational facilities must be furnished for the three unfortunate newcomers. At what must then have been great expense, sacrifice of time, the village sent all the way to New England and procured an instructor skilled in this work—a well educated man by the name of Smith, who was himself a mute.

The deaf and dumb school opened that same year in the home of Cornelius Johnson, on the road leading south from Tallmadge. The next year some additional pupils were sent to the school, which was moved to larger quarters in the house of Dr. Amos Wright, and the State contributed $100 toward maintenance.

During the third year, with twelve pupils enrolled, the State took over the project entirely and moved Mr. Smith and his charges to Columbus, where a permanent institution was established.

AKRONITE.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Mr. and Mrs. James M. Park will start late in summer on a tour north and east, to visit the country and their children in Illinois and Massachusetts, and will take in the Ohio Reunion. They will find a welcome awaiting at their stops.

Mrs. Carol Shaw McLean was operated on for appendicitis.

Mrs. Sproule has her parents and sister visiting her.

E. M. Price, years ago, played on the Santa Ana professional line as catcher to young Walter Johnson. The Santa Ana Register had a reprint recently of a photo of the club. In one game Johnson struck out twenty and Price had four passed balls.

If E. S. Tillinghast sees this item, will he furnish Mrs. C. C. Hollinger, R1, Box 147, Inglewood, Cal., with the address of Frank Guthrie (or Gunther)?

Thomas Bradshaw, of Santa Barbara, is a master workman. His employer is urging him to take over the management of a branch up north, and offering as an inducement the opportunity to earn an income that would make a movie star green without paint.

The Morgans, from Oklahoma City, have moved to Los Angeles. Mrs. Morgan was May E. Gunn, of Tennessee. Mr. Morgan is painting biblical subjects for a living. T. C. MUELLER.

"He's true to God who's true to man;
Wherever wrong is done
To the humblest and the weakest
Neath the all-beholding sun,
That wrong is also done to us,
And they are slaves most base,
Whose love of right is for themselves,
And not for all the race."

Specimen copies sent to any address on receipt of five cents.

Notice concerning the whereabouts of individuals will be charged at the rate of ten cents a line.

On Sunday, the sixth day of June, Mr. Guilbert C. Braddock will be ordained to the diaconate. The candidate will be presented by Rev. Mr. John H. Kent, under whom he has studied and been prepared during the past three or four years. The ceremony of ordination will be performed by Bishop Manning, in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, on Morningside Heights at West 110th Street. It is probably the only instance of a deaf mute being ordained in a cathedral, and is regarded as a signal honor.

Since the saintly Thomas Gallaudet began his religious ministrations among the adult deaf, there have been nineteen deaf men ordained to the ministry of the Episcopal Church, five of whom—Revs Henry Winter Syle, Austin W. Mann, Job Turner, Brewster R. Allabough, Charles Orvis Dantzer—have gone to their reward. It was due to the logical contentions and untiring persistence of Mr. Syle that deaf men were ordained to the priesthood. From Apostolic day until his time, their rights and aspirations had been denied. He it was who opened the door that had ever been closed to them, and which has resulted to the very great benefit of deaf humanity.

We congratulate Mr. Wells L. Hill and Mrs. Hill upon reaching their fiftieth wedding anniversary. Mr. Hill is a Gallaudet College graduate, taking his Bachelor's degree with the Class of 1872, with the late Amos G. Draper, Robert P. McGregor, and five others who have "crossed the line." Besides Mr. Hill only Robert P. McGregor is alive today. The last of this famous class to go was Frederick L. De B. Reid, who died suddenly a few months ago at Omaha. Mr. Hill has long been editor and proprietor of the Athol, Mass., Transcript, a very influential newspaper in New England. We hope they will live to celebrate their "Diamond Wedding."

The Deaf-Mutes' Union League is one of the most progressive social clubs existence. Founded thirty-nine years ago by Messrs. Samuel Frankenhelm, Joseph Yankauer, Charles Bothner and Adolph Pfeiffer, it has grown in worth and importance ever since. It has always been New York's social centre for the deaf, and its influence on the whole has been beneficial upon public welfare. During the great World's War, many of the sons of members risked their lives on the battlefield, and the members themselves, debared from military service, gave of their substance to help the soldiers win. In all calls for monetary aid for the needy and unfortunate, the Deaf-Mutes' Union League has been quick to respond most liberally. Its name will be found on the roster of donors, in every instance where the cause has been a worthy one. At this juncture, an appeal has been made for the unfortunate deaf of China, who are doomed to a miserable existence unless helped to the blessings and benefits of an education. The Union League promptly sent a donation of one hundred dollars. A praiseworthy act and an example for others to follow.

CHINA

THE HANGCHOW SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF—APPEAL TO THE FRIENDS WHO ARE INTERESTED IN THE CHINESE DEAF.

Mr. Tsen Yao Shien, who was a preacher all his life, founded the Hangchow School for the Deaf in Hangchow in 1914.

Mr. Tsen started the school because he realized the need for a school of this kind for the unfortunate people who could not hear. His eldest son, Tsen Tien Fu, a deaf-mute, brought home to him the fact of the pitiful condition of the deaf throughout China. He sent his son to the Chefoo School to study for ten years, and saw the marked change in him as a result of his studies. Another hearing son T'ien Sih, was sent to study methods for a period of two years, so that he could be of great use in the work of instructing the deaf.

The Hangchow School for the Deaf has been in operation for ten years. Sixty-seven deaf pupils have finished the course and are now engaged in useful occupations which they otherwise could not have done. The funds of the school, have in the past been mostly raised among foreign Missionaries and Chinese. As a result, there has been a lack of funds which is being felt very much at the present time. This year the school has twenty-one pupils on the roll, but no money with which to carry on the work. We have had applications from thirty students, but have had to reject one-third of them, because we had hopes of only enough money to care for about twenty-one. Of these twenty-one, only eleven are able to support themselves. The rest are partly or wholly dependent upon contributions to the school. Although we have no prospects of sufficient funds to continue this work this year, we have determined to open the school; for we realize that to discontinue this work would be a serious blow to the education of the deaf, and also a grave blow to society; for the deaf are serious problem in China, if not educated. The Hangchow Presbyterian Mission has, until this year, paid the house rent for the school, but has found it is unable to do so this year. The rent is small, but the result attained through the work of the school is large. One is measured in money, the other in Humanity Service, Love, and Usefulness.

We feel that to discontinue the school would be most unfortunate, and so we are appealing to you to help us as best you can, whether the sum is large or small. The budget in money for this year is not large, but the budget for Love, Service and Joy is not to be measured, for who can measure the Happiness resulting from the ability to understand the speech of fellow men, the ability to do as others do, to work, to serve, and to be, as nearly as possible, like other more fortunate brothers and sisters.

We are sending this appeal to you, because we need your help, and need it badly. We need help to help others, for we have not sufficient funds to do the work ourselves. As Christ healed the blind and the dumb, so we are trying to heal them to the extent that they can, at least be nearly as like others as possible.

If you can possibly help, please send your contribution to Mr. E. A. Hodgson, DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, TSE TSEN FU, President.

"IF I WERE BILL."

"If I were Bill," said he to me,
"I think I'd do more good than he.
I had all he has to give,
I think a kinder life I'd live;
I'd help a lot of folks I know
If I were Bill and he were Joe."

"If I were Jim, I'd be a Jim
In every way excelling him,
I'd do the things he fails to do,
And cure the faults men plainly view;
I'd lift full many a weight of woe,
If I were Jim and he were Joe."

"If I were George, I swear I'd be
A finer sort of George than he,
For needy men to help I'd search,
I'd lift the mortgage on the church;
But things have not been ordered so,
For he is George and I am Joe."

"If I were you," said I, "I'd see
How good a Joseph I could be,
I fancy Bill and George and Jim
Are doing well enough for Him
Who sent us all to serve below—
Perhaps He'd like a better Joe."

"It's wasting time to lie awake
Thinking how good a Jim you'd make.
Perhaps you'd make a better Bill,
Or else a better George, but still,
Your chance for glory is to see—
How good a Joseph you can be."

CHICAGO.

The name and fame of Matthewson and Bowerman and Ames and "Dummy" Taylor live for aye—Those mighty, magic names! Will "Dummy" Taylor serve as host, To other mid-west lads, When all the teachers gather round To talk of teaching fads? They'll sprit and jump and hurdle, They'll throw the weights and vault—And if the sight aint grand to see It will not be my fault.

Will there be a championship track and field meet for American Schools for the Deaf, held in connection with the big Teachers' Convention to be held in Council Bluffs, Iowa, next month?

Such a radical but praiseworthy idea originates from the brawny brain of Robey Burns, physical trainer of the Illinois school. He opines interested alumni could donate a car or two, each car holding some five of the best trackmen of their old school, making the trip to Council Bluffs at small expense.

And why not? Recent years have proven that nothing is too hard for the deaf—especially the live-wire bunch in charge of athletics in the Mid-Western schools. Beside Burns, there is Norris of Indianapolis, Wine-miller of Ohio, Foltz of Kansas, Neesam of Wisconsin, and the great "Dummy" Taylor (ex-pitcher of the Giants in the days of Ames and Mat-teson) at Iowa itself. Nebraska and Minnesota also must have admirable material—names of their coaches escape my memory.

Its a great idea; and is herewith presented to those coaches for what it is worth. "Sport for sport's sake," and may they make the dream come true.

The legislature has passed an appropriation for a new gymnasium at the Illinois State school. It is about time.

Possibly Illinois' brilliant victory in the basketball tournament for Central States Schools for the Deaf had something to do with securing the new gym.

Frederick A. Moore, a teacher at the New Jersey State School in Trenton (the same Freddy Moore, who while a Gallaudet undergraduate, clerked here during the summer of 1917), as Secretary Treasurer of the N. A. D., sends out postals whooping up the N. A. D. drive for life memberships at $10. In this laudable ambition, he is backed up locally by the president, A. L. Roberts. But the N. A. D. movement here seems to have petered out since the departure of Johnnie Purdum. Purdum's N. A. D. branch seems to have quietly perished with Purdum's departure, although it is incorporated under the laws of the State. This is a glaring example of what petty jealousies and intramural enmities do in a huge community like Chicago.

Local subscribers to the Jewish Deaf, of New York, are receiving checks for the unexpired balance of their subscriptions, for this magazine has—after a hectic ten-year career—gone to join the unhappy haunting grounds of the several dozen other independent papers for the deaf. If ever before a "busted" independent paper of our class refunded to paid-up subscribers, I never heard of it! Those Jews certainly die dead-game sportsmen.

Deadfom is much interested in "Up the Ladder," starring Virginia Valli—a movie plot hinging on the invention and performance of an imaginary "tele-vision-phone." When this imaginary idea finally becomes a reality—as it is certain to, in time—then the silents of Chicago will converse with each other at will, instead of having to depend on occasional visits to the various clubs.

And you should not miss Zane Grey's "Thundering Herd," which has two hundred feet of translated sign-conversation. "The Chiefs of the Cheyenne and other tribes met in council, and unable to understand each other's language, conversed in the universal sign-language of the Redskins," it says. The translation of the signs shows some of them bear striking resemblance to our own language, namely, "eat," "buffalo," "whiteman," "camp," and "kill."

The local Gallaudet College Alumni Association held their annual banquet recently, at King's Restaurant—thirty two covers at $1.25 apiece. The meal was very good. President Ed Garrett was toast-master. Jack Seipp spoke on "Athletics of My Time." Mrs. Meagher recited Draper's "Hall of Gallaudet," and other speakers were Miss Lydia McNeil, A. L. Roberts, J. S. Long, Dr. Dougherty, Mrs. G. Erickson, G. Boltz, F. Lee, Rev. F. Flick and Mrs. M. Henry.

Bob Kannapell planned to make his first visit to Chicago since securing work on the Culver (Ind.) Children, on the 10th. A few miles from Culver, Bob's train was held up several hours by a train-wreck ahead—so the sunny sunny-gun right-about-faced.

Card parties were held at the Sac and Pas on the 9th.

Mrs. Bernard Jacobson gave a card party on the afternoon of the 9th.

Mrs. Wm. J. O'Neil left for Indianapolis on the 9th, where she joined her husband, planning to accompany him on his tour of the East and South for a couple of months. They expected to attend the Kentucky Derby on the 16th.

Recently the hearing sister of Mrs. Hall donated $50 to the Home, on her birthday.

Israel Zimmerman has moved to Detroit. Must be dozens of ex-Chicagoans prospering in the Dynamic City.

Ed Garrett, the Montana cowboy, delivered the "Hunchback of the Sien" at the May "lit" of the Silent A. C., receiving a good hand for his excellent, clear-cut sign slinging. Chairman Mrs. Wm. G. Neil has the unique record of not staging a poor "lit" since taking charge a year and a half ago.

Morton Henry's kid was down with the whooping cough, and Izzy Newman's with measles.

The Rev. C. W. Charles, of Columbus, addressed a small crowd at All Angels' Parish house on the 6th.

The Ernest W. Craigs—original remaining settlers of "Saville," or "Elickville" as it used to be known—who have resided in the neighborhood of 55th and Indiana for some twenty years, are going to move. Work starts June first on their new six-room Dutch Colonial bungalow in Park Ridge, a suburb.

It is said Peter Livishis, an intelligent young orlist, is conducting a mail-order business in books and magazines, under the catchy cognomen of "Peter the Bookseller."

Dates ahead: May 23—Annual Home Bazaar, at the Sac. 24—Oral club card party for Home—at 3958 W. Madison (Burns' Hall). "Show" by "Stags" at Pas. Big carnival nights at Sac, May 29-30. June 13—Bunco at Sac. 20—"Show" at Pas, for the Home.

Fred Lee has prepared an exceptional program for his show at the Silent A. C., the night of Decoration Day. Gene Caswell and her cascade of dancing dolls will cavort as in the "Follies," which enthralled visiting delegates last summer. "You'll miss it if you miss it." Program follows:

The Capital City

"All day we squirm and twitch;
All night we toss and pitch;
Our "lungs" are hawking
That is why we are scratching
Our Vaccination itch."

Denying the smallpox epidemic in Washington, the District Commissioners have issued the following proclamation:

"Whereas it has been brought to the attention of the Commissioners that reports are being widely disseminated that there is an epidemic of smallpox within the District of Columbia, and that persons have been cautioned against visiting Washington by reason thereof, the Commissioners, after conference with the Health Officer of the District, have decided to issue this proclamation denying that smallpox is epidemic in the District of Columbia. The population of the District is nearly 500,000, and since January 1st, 1925, to the present time, there have been only fifty four cases of smallpox.

"While the Health Officer has suggested the advisability of vaccination of residents of the District, such suggestion was not due entirely to conditions peculiar to the District of Columbia, but was due in fact that smallpox is prevalent in various parts of the United States."

The personnel of the board of appeals for automobile operator's licenses was announced last week. Dr. Percival Hall, President of the Gallaudet College is a member of the board. The board will have the final word in acting on appeals of all persons denied driver's permit because of physical disabilities.

The Washington papers say that Gallaudet College did not offer the Marines much opposition in baseball game at Quantico, Va., May 2d, being beaten 13 to 2. They also state: Gallaudet was never dangerous.

The Box Social for the benefit of St. Barnabas Mission was held at the Trinity Church, Third and C, N. E., Tuesday evening, May 12th. It was a success.

Mr. Robert C. Miller's letter to the JOURNAL of May 14th, on "What is the Matter with the Deaf," is appreciated in some part. But the talking with a stick does not help a bit. The real and large responsibility is alone on the shoulders of the teachers, preachers, superintendents of deaf schools and other professional deaf for the short-comings of the N. A. D.

The working class deaf are not selfish. They simply follow the example of the teachers, etc. They (teachers, etc.) ought to be aroused and act for the betterment of the deaf. And the N. A. D. officers and State Organizers are responsible for the lost confidence of the N. A. D.

The Washington deaf have heard the call of the N. A. D., and are busy driving every penny into the fund for 1926 Convention Entertainments.

Some of the deaf attended the meet of the famous women delegates to the International Council of Women last week. The women declared that spanking and other stern punishments for children were scored as "barbarous."

The Speech Reading Club of Washington presented "A Cannibal Love Affair" (shadowgraph) at Emerson Hall, All Souls' Church, 16th and Harvard, N. W., and also two film features, Wednesday evening, May 6th. Admission was fifty cents.

That Washington is the Nation's MECCA is more and more evident each day. No tourist ever leaves Washington out of his or her itinerary. It is said that Washington is entirely too large a city to have Congress Act as its CITY COUNCIL, and Congress is now away until December. The powers of the Commissioners and other officials are hedged about pretty closely. Until December we probably shall have no city government at all—that is, armed with plenary power. The Washington people want the vote and home rule in their local affairs.

Washington led the Nation Sunday, May 10th, in paying tribute to Mother. Her name was the theme of prayer in the churches and her spirit the host in home throughout the city. Lay-Reader Fletcher (Senior of the Gallaudet College) conducted services at St. Barnabas Mission of St. John's Church that morning. His subject was "The Unchangeable One," which was interesting and instructive. He spoke in part that "Mother's Day" is a copy of God and Christ." After which St. John, chapter 14, was read. Mother's love is the only unselfish love in the world, because it gives every thing and asks nothing in return.

Hunter Edington is president of the St. Barnabas Mission, which meets every month.

Under the auspices of St. Barnabas Mission, another social—"500" will be held at St. Barnabas, St. John's Church, 16th and H. Streets in June.

DETROIT NEWS

Clarence Kubisch and wife are the happy parents of a little girl that came to stay with them. Congratulations.

Mrs. Wm. Behrendt and baby Louise, of Detroit, were in Port Huron, Mich., guests of the Kresins two weeks ago.

The Detroit Association of the Deaf is flourishing in every way and the membership is growing. They will have a club of their own by and by.

Dan I. Whitehead, of Mt. Clemens, Mich., has secured a job at Ypsilanti, Mich., and goes home every week end. If he likes his job, proves steady, he may have his family move to Ypsilanti, Mich., to live.

Atcheson Scott, Half Way, Mich., who has been laid off for three months went back to work a month ago.

The Joneses have at last decided to keep their little home on 22676 Couzens Avenue, Royal Oak, Mich., and are fixing things up as they originally planned. They will have a new Ford touring car, if they have good luck this year. Their host of friends wish their path may be filled with roses.

Eckert's Detroit news to the JOURNAL were welcome to the readers in Washington. Write again.

PHILADELPHIA.

News items for this column should be sent to James S. Reider, 1888 North Dover Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

By invitation, Mr. Marcus L. Kenner, of New York City, made one of his periodical visits to Philadelphia to talk to audiences of deaf people, and as usual, he was warmly received by them. He spoke first before the Philadelphia Local Branch of the Pennsylvania Society for the Advancement of the Deaf, on the general progress of the times and their continual advancement, at All Souls' Hall on Saturday evening, May 16th. The following day, Sunday, 17th, he appeared before the Beth Israel Association of the Deaf in Beth Israel Temple, 32d Street and Montgomery Avenue, where he gave a general talk on affairs that mostly concerned the Hebrew deaf of both New York and Philadelphia. He made it plain that the subject was not of his own choosing, but selected in compliance with the request of some friends here. And, without going into little details, his talk proved very interesting, and he was given a rising vote of thanks at the conclusion.

After thirty-five years of service as Parish Visitor of All Souls' Church for the Deaf, Mrs. Margaret J. Syle has retired from active service by relinquishing her official position in the parish, and in cognizance of it, she was given a reception at the church on Wednesday evening, May 13th. Although invited to attend the event, it was not convenient for us to do so; but, if we were correctly informed, another writer will report the event to the JOURNAL.

We only wish here to congratulate the lady upon her long, active and useful service, and to wish her all the happiness, peace and good possible during her remaining years. Though retired from active service, she hopes to continue her interest in the welfare of the church and its people.

Mrs. Mary L. Haight, of New York City, has been a visitor to the city during the greater part of last week as the guest of Mrs. Syle.

Mr. Clarence Murday, ex-'25, Gallaudet, from Illinois, was a week-end visitor here, having come by automobile from California, where he had been living. He will tour the East and expects to spend some time in the South before returning West.

The members of Beth Israel Association for the Deaf have been extended an invitation to the Chestnut Street Theatre to see an exhibition by Thurston, the magician, on Monday evening, May 18th.

Owing to the prevalence of small pox in this city for some time, visitors to the Mt. Airy School are not admitted, nor are pupils allowed to go home. Vaccination is urged upon all citizens and a great many people are taking the precaution.

On April 7th, Governor Pinchot approved the Barr bill, which amends the School Employees' Retirement Act, removing the present $2000 salary limit for consideration of retirement allowances and requiring that after July 1st, 1825, payment by all employees and teachers in the fund be on the basis of their full salary.

The new law also establishes retirement allowance on full salary basis.—The Public Ledger.

The congregation of All Souls' recently presented the Pastor, Rev. Warren M. Smaltz, two sectional book cases as a mark of appreciation for his zealous part in the recent renovation of the interior of the church and the Parish House. The presentation was made by Mr. Harry E. Stevens and was a complete surprise to Mr. Smaltz.

Before the Beth Israel Association of the Deaf in the new Young Men's and Women's Hebrew Association building, Broad and Pine Streets, on May 10th, Mr. J. S. Reider repeated the life-story of the eminent early Philadelphian, Stephen Girard.

Mrs. S. O. Housermeyer, of York, Pa., is visiting her parents here for two weeks. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reider.

Mrs. Emma J. Dantzer, widow of the late Pastor of All Souls' Church for the Deaf, is visiting her old home in Evansville, Indiana. She is expected back shortly and plans, as usual, to spend the Summer at her bungalow in Wildwood, N. J.

The papers are being prepared for the purchase by mortgage of the Torresdale property for the relocation of the Home for the Aged, Infirm and Blind Deaf. Settlement will be made in the latter part of this week, if all plans turn out as expected. Then will come the job of making the necessary alterations and improvements to the building, which will take some time. But there need be no great haste about this, as it is more desirable to dispose of the Doylestown property before occupying the new one.

Kingship is a profession which has produced both the most illustrious and most contemptible of the human race.—Landon.

Gallaudet College.

The Preps, with Louis Byouk setting the pace, handily won the annual inter-class field and track meet held on May 9th. The husky Colorado youngsters snapped up four first, one second and two third places and piled up a total of 26½ points. He established a new intramural record in the shot-put event, with a heave of 36.65 feet. Riddle vaulted the pole for a new record of ten feet.

Summary:
100 yd. Dash—Byouk, Johnson, Beauchamp. Time 10½ seconds.
880 yd. Dash—Kaercher, Brower, Heinrich. Time 2¼ seconds.
Jav. Throw—Ross, Knauss, Ridings.

120 yards High Hurdles—Pucci, Riddle, Byouk. Time 20½ sec.

Broad Jump—Rose, Byouk, Massinkoff. Distance 20.25 feet.

1 Mile Relay—Preps, Freshmen, Juniors. Time 3 min. 57 sec.

Totals: Preps, 43; Freshmen, 37; Juniors, 30½; Sophomores, 11½; Seniors, 4.

Our senior class members were among the local college and Seminary students received by Mrs. Calvin Coolidge at the White House, Tuesday afternoon, May 12. They found the first lady of the land very charming, pleasant and with a cheery word of greeting for each visitor.

During the first part of the week the "101 Ranch and Wild West Show" pitched their tents on the field west of the campus. Many of the fellows visited the place and saw how Westerners are supposed to lasso, throw, hog tie and what-not a wild Texan longhorn steer. A big troupe of Indians accompanied the show. Some of the Preps soon found a deaf Redman in the group, and every afternoon a number of students would meet him and talk in natural signs.

Late in the week Mr. Drake secured a newcomer, Hermann Beck, to work for him as farmhand. Beck is a University man, was a captain in the World War, is something of a linguist, and has travelled extensively. He is becoming popular with the men students.

Mr. Carl Berg, a Swede of one year's residence in the United States, took a trip down from Hartford, Ct., to visit over the week-end with Edward Szopa. Mr. Berg is a printer at the Hartford Insurance Company offices.

The members of the two upper classes and of the faculty assembled in the Kendall School Chapel, on Friday evening, for the Annual Junior-Senior Reception. A riddle contest furnished the company brain food for several minutes. Dr. Ely won the first prize, and Mr. Allison took the second. The merry group passed the remainder of the evening playing games and dancing.

Saturday afternoon saw our track and field men get a rough trouncing at the hands of the George Washington University squad. The Hatterettes won all first places save one, the javelin event, which our "Rosy" Rose copped with a powerful throw of 137½ feet. As a result of their 98-25 victory, the Hatterettes gained possession of the Dual-meet Trophy Cup for one year. Last year Gallaudet won one leg on the cup. Next year's meet therefore will decide who will be the permanent owner of it.

The Jolity Club gave its annual Lawn Fete on May 16th, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Harley D. Drake. The evening was cool with a gentle breeze that made everyone tingle with life and enjoy the entertainment to the utmost. The club treated everyone to generous dishes of ice cream and dainty cookies, which tasted especially good under the trees, as one of the party remarked.

Many of the students "took in" Ringling's Circus, which was encamped just west of the Green during the week end.

The Y. M. C. A. gave the following program at the afternoon Chapel exercises on Sunday, May 17th:

Prayer—Thomas Peterson. Song, "Te Deum Laudamus"—Howard Hofstater. Lecture—Chaplain E. W. Scott, U. S. N.

Pittsburgh Reformed Presbyterian Church.

Eight St. between Penn Avenue and Duquesne Way.
REV. T. H. ACHESON, Pastor.

NEW YORK

News items for this column should be sent direct to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, station M, New York.

A few words of information in a letter or postal card is sufficient. We will do the rest.

DEAF MUTES' UNION LEAGUE.

The membership roll of the Deaf-Mutes' Union League is increasing month by month, hardly a month passes that several applicants are not received.

At the last meeting, held on Thursday evening, May 14th, as usual, there were received several applicants.

At the meeting the attendance was one hundred and twenty eight, a record so far.

Among other business transacted was the approving of the plan of the 40th Anniversary Celebration, which will take place on January 2d, 1926. Of this more will be given in this column in due time.

Other important business transacted was of re-covering the pool tables and purchasing several dozen new chairs and repairing the broken ones.

A donation of one hundred dollars was voted to the School for Deaf, at Chefoo, China, as all present thought the appeal was a worthy one.

The vacancy in the Board of Governors, caused by the resignation of Mr. C. C. McManu, who is now in California, was filled by the election of Joe Graham.

Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, the Commissioner of Baseball, who was in the city during the early part of May, and met and shook hands with many admirers of the National game—baseball—just missed meeting the Secretary of the Deaf-Mutes' Union League, Mr. J. Mortiller, on account of the great jam; much to the disappointment of Secretary Mortiller, so he wrote to the Judge and added that the Deaf-Mutes' Union League, of which he is Secretary, had many members who were baseball fans and would appreciate very much an autographed baseball.

The Judge wrote the following letter to Mr. Mortiller:

CHICAGO, May 11, 1925.

Mr. J. Mortiller,
Secretary Deaf-Mutes' Union League,
143 West 125th Street,
New York City.

Dear Mr. Mortiller: With appreciation of your letter of the 8th of May, I am sending you today, in accordance with your request, an autographed baseball.

With good wishes to your organization.
Very truly yours,
K. M. LANDIS.

On Sunday evening Mr. Samuel Lowenherz showed it to the members present at the club rooms.

On Sunday, May 10th, 1925, the three-week-old baby girl, Bella Lena Pannowe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Pannowe, was baptized by Rev. Father Liller, of St. Babra Catholic Church, Cathedral Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

The sponsors for the little one were Mr. J. Kansriddle and Miss L. Milone.

After the ceremony a fine supper was served to the guests present, which included the following: Mr. and Mrs. A. Pannowe, Mr. and Mrs. J. Kansriddle, Mr. and Mrs. R. Lajng, Mr. E. Dackerman and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. McLaughlin, Miss A. Quinlan, Mr. C. Cavanaugh, Mr. J. Martin, Mr. M. Dubato, Mr. J. Humewitz, Miss J. Reidel, of Old Mill, Mr. H. Kelly, of New Jersey, Lena Milone, Mr. H. Suderhauf, Mrs. A. Kollman, Mrs. M. McEiz, Miss Rose Behrens, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Leone, Miss G. DeLuca, Miss E. Maloney, Miss G. Francis, Miss N. Jolardo, Miss R. Galgano, Mr. D. Jolardo and son, Mr. A. Jolardo, Mr. F. Plapinger, Miss L. Gallo, Miss S. Fauma, Mr. and Mrs. M. Schamberg, Mrs. E. Grady, Mrs. M. Heischobor and daughter.

The baby received many pretty and useful presents.

Mrs. Caroline Thompson, an old resident of Bensonhurst, has for a long time been planning for a surprise party for Mrs. Liebsohn, her close friend, and it was certainly a great surprise when she came home from the movies. Mrs. McLaren said the gas bomb was broke in the dining room and that she not light the gas, so Mrs. Liebsohn went in the dining-room and was surrounded by a crowd of friends. Among the surprisers were: Katie Eblech, Elizabeth Maclaire, Miss Elizabeth and Robert Anderson, Mrs. Emma Schnakenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Abrams, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McLaren, Miss Williams, Mr. Frank Ecker, Mr. Maire, Mr. Portman, Mr. Allen Hitchcock, Miss Rachel Gault, Mr. R. A. Krester, Mr. Grutchmacher, Mrs. Anna Ewing, sister of Mrs. Liebsohn. Mrs. Thompson managed with the aid of Mrs. Ewing and Mrs. A. J. McLaren fixing the table with good stuff and plenty of eats. The presents were lovely.

Last Saturday evening a nice big crowd gathered at the headquarters of the Hebrew Association of the Deaf for the Casino Party, staged under the auspices of the entertainment committee, headed by Mr. Moses A. Rosenberg.

The lucky winners as announced are: Mrs. Ludwig Fischer, 1st prize, Miss Rose Wax, 2d prize, and Mrs. Max Miller, 3d prize, and Ben Brandelstein, 1st prize, Harry Whitman, 2d prize, and Abe Raboff and Louis Uhlberg, 3d prize.

After refreshments dancing followed until a late hour.

St. Ann's Church staged its "Indoor Circus" in the Parish Hall, Saturday evening, May 9th. A crowd of some two hundred fifty persons was present—largest audience St. Ann's has had since the Fair of last November. Over $125 was realized for the Decimal Chapter, which will be used in painting, and redecorating the interior of the Parish House. The Circus program was a rather mixed one, consisting of clown stunts, acrobatics, fake animal training, fancy costuming, and "general foolishness." Popcorn, peanuts, hot dogs, and lemonade were sold during the show. The affair was managed by Miss Alice Judge, with Prof. W. G. Jones as ring-master.

Miss Doris Kent, 10-year old daughter of Rev. John H. Kent, undertook a "Fair" on a small scale for the benefit of the Gallaudet Home for Deaf-Mutes. The sum of $16.48 was cleared. All kinds of small articles, candy and punch, were the wares sold, and the patrons were mostly girl friends living in the neighborhood of St. Ann's Church. The money was sent to the Home, where most of the total was distributed among the inmates, and the rest used to buy three treats of ice-cream for them.

Abe Fishberg, who is indebted to Fanwood for his education, was the first deaf-mute to blossom out attired in a new 1925 style of straw on Saturday, May 9th. He said on the morrow (Sunday, the 10th) was Mother's Day, and it was proper to honor the occasion by donning straw on that day. Abe, after the operation at St. Luke's Hospital several months ago, has again regained his former good health, and to-day he works steadily and seems happy.

Two Philadelphians, Messrs. Charles Partington and Howard E. Arnold, took advantage of the reduced rates, on Tuesday, May 12th, and visited New York City, and saw the many new improvements that have been and are being made. They also called on a former Philadelphian, now a resident of our metropolis, Mrs. M. W. Loew, and spent several pleasant hours.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. McManu have arrived at their new home in Los Angeles. The sail through the Panama Canal was wonderful and interesting to them. They had pleasant weather throughout the journey. When they arrived at San Diego, they met Mr. and Mrs. Gledhill, formerly of New York.

Mrs. Theresa A. Kiernan, sister of Peter J. Kiernan passed away on Wednesday, May 13th, at the Union Hospital, Bronx, after an operation for hernia. Interment was in St. Raymond Cemetery, Throgg's Neck, N. Y., on May 15th.

The Brooklyn Guild will have indoor games and social at St. Mark's, 230 Adelphi Street, Brooklyn, Saturday evening, May 23d. Bring your friends. Ice cream and cake and orangeade will be sold. Admission free to all.

At the Washington Heights home of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Loew, sixteen persons also played whist and partook of the hospitality of the host and hostess.

John Cail, of Philadelphia, Pa., brother of James W. Cail, of this city, was in New York on Sunday, May 17th. Mr. Skidmore, of the Bronx, showed him around.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Eber, Miss Sarah Zanger, of Newark, N. J., were among the Sunday evening visitors at the rooms of the Deaf-Mutes' Union League.

The baby boy, born to Mr. and Mrs. J. Zoller, on March 24th, 1925, which weighed 4 pounds, died suddenly on May 13th, 1925.

Mrs. Millie Dubato, mother of Mr. Michael Dubato, died on May 4th, after a lingering illness of one year.

Saturday evening, May 16th, the Lexington Avenue School Alumni, held a whist party at the 67th Street School.

Miss Sophia Mullin of Washington, D. C., wishes to know the whereabouts of Dr. and Mrs. Ide L. Kinney, of Pittsburgh, Pa., who were long-time ago residents of Port Allegany, Pa., five miles from where Miss Mullin used to live. She and Mrs. Kinney were great friends until they moved from Port Allegany to North East Pittsburgh, and Miss Mullin lost trace of them. Miss Mullin's address is 4580 Georgia Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C.

OHIO.

[News items for this column may be sent to our Ohio News Bureau, care of Mr. A. B. Greener, 998 Franklin Ave., Columbus, O.]

May 16, 1925—Miss Mary E. Rader, who entered the Home for Deaf in August, 1921, from Greeve County, was recently moved to Springfield, O., and placed in a tuberculosis hospital. She is aged about sixty-five years. She was a pupil of the school under the superintendency of Dr. G. O. Fay.

Miss Mary Maud Byerly, who entered the Home in November, 1923, was withdrawn after a few months' stay. Last week she was readmitted. She is about sixty years old. She was educated in the Indiana School, but has been a resident of Ohio a number of years. She has a hearing sister, who is a teacher in the Columbus Public Schools.

The Home at this season of the year is a nice place to visit, with its large lawn decked here and there with flowers and shrubbery in bloom and surrounded by stately trees.

The "residents" have been entertained through the winter and spring seasons with tri weekly movies, Messrs. Beckert and Ohlman taking turns in going up to run the machine.

The Advance Society's Sedan has made these trips possible. Now that day light lasts longer and the weather growing warmer, the old folks will prefer sitting out on the porch and watch the numerous autos passing up and down the road.

Superintendent Chapman, with the aid of Mr. Osborn, his assistant, and Clifford Davis, have about completed field planting, and garden planting is well advanced, so if the season is favorable, there will be plenty of vegetables to supply the residents.

Lawrence, the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Green, was the 5th champion out of 85 Northwest Ohio boys, who contended in the National Marble tournament. He received from his West Toledo School, a silver medal and a bronze. Though he did not come out first in all the contests, he will have, and will take another chance next year when he will be fourteen years old.

When Mrs. B. P. Green and Mrs. Frank Walton, both now residents, of Toledo, were pupils of the School, they were called upon, on special occasions to render patriotic hymns, which they did beautifully. That was a score or more years ago. Since then they give recitations occasionally at meetings.

May 3d, they were prevailed upon to recite the Star Spangled Banner at a meeting of the Ephphatha Auxiliary. A few days later they received the letter, which in part reads:—

"Please accept our expression of sincere thanks for your great kindness in 'staging' for us in signs, the Star Spangled Banner, at our reception last Sunday night. Every one marvelled about your number—every one was quiet, we could have heard a pin drop. It was all so new to most of the audience, and they thoroughly appreciated your number."

"It was indeed kind of you to take part in our program, and we wish to assure you that we appreciated it from the bottom of our heart. The entire program was marked with simplicity and refinement, but we were especially proud of you."

William A. Eckert, who entered the school here in 1868, and left in 1872, died, May 6th, from infirmities of old age. He had been failing for some time and was bed fast a few days before the end came. The funeral was held, Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Barclay Johnson and Mrs. Cochran, of Upper Sandusky, attended it and contributed floral tributes, in which they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Menizer near Sandusky.

Mr. Eckert was married to Miss Bertha Sohke in the early eighties, who, with three children, survive. Mr. Eckert's home was near Nevada, Ohio. He was an industrious worker and much liked.

Saturday afternoon, May 9th, at the home of Miss Anna King, on Franklin Avenue, a pleasant affair took place, tendering a miscellaneous shower to Miss Dorothy Durrant, a to be June bride. The event came as a double surprise, that it was not expected, and that she found her mother among the entertainers, whom she supposed was at home.

Upon reaching the house she was ushered into the parlor and there greeted by a large number of friends, when only two or three were supposed to be guests of the house. The fun came when she was asked to play the role of Little Jack Horner and the pie. The pie was brought in, a very large and deep one too, and after reciting the verses Miss Durrant tore off the crust and there, instead of plums, found an assortment of packages each neatly wrapped up. Quite a number had come from distant friends. That she was surprised need not be told.

It took some time to pick each out of the "pie," unwrap and announce the sender. They were of all sorts, ornamental and useful. The dining room was decorated with pink crepe paper, and the guests served themselves, to the dainties placed upon the table, standing under the chandelier. It was a happy occasion for all present with only one regret, that the honor guest would soon have her home in Canada instead of Columbus.

FANWOOD.

Tuesday, May 19th, was a great day at Fanwood. The Board of Directors and Members of the Institution held their Annual Meeting and elected officers for the ensuing year, and Directors for three years. The elections resulted as follows:

Officers—President, Samuel L. Betts; First Vice President, Wm. M. V. Hoffman; Second Vice President, Bronson Winthrop; Secretary, F. A. de Peyster; Treasurer, John D. Peabody.

Directors—(To serve three years, until the third Tuesday in May, 1928)—Samuel R. Betts, Warren E. Dennis, William M. Everts, Robert G. Hone, John D. Peabody, Arden M. Robbins, Bronson Winthrop.

There was also a meeting of the Ladies' Committee at 1:30 P. M.

The military ceremonies began at three o'clock in the afternoon.

REVIEW by Second Lieutenant Walter J. Stuart, U. S. Marine Corps.

SETTING-UP EXERCISES, ACCOMPANIED BY CADET BAND.

SILENT DRILL BY THE CADET PROVINCIAL COMPANY.

INDIVIDUAL COMPETITION IN THE MANUAL OF ARMS—Judged by 2d Lieutenant Walter J. Stuart, U. S. Marine Corps, Sergeant Horace E. Lyon, Sergeant Jack Salisky.

AWARDING OF MEDALS.

DISMISSAL OF COLORS.

The Cadet Band gave a concert during the competition.

The setting-up exercises and Evening Parade reflected credit up on the military instructors and the deaf cadets alike.

In the competition in the manual of arms, great interest was manifested. The judges penalized the slightest deviation from perfect form by ordering the offender to step back from the line. The excitement among the pupils was at fever heat as the number of competitors dwindled down to three or four, and a buzz of finger talk followed the selection of the winners.

The winners of this year's medals are as follows:

The Russell Gold Medals for high proficiency in the school of the soldier, were awarded as follows:

Company "A"—Cadet Natale Cerniglio.

Company "B"—Cadet Herbert Carroll.

Company "C"—Cadet William Raynor.

The George Moore Smith Medals, for excellency in the Manual of Arms were awarded as follows:

Company "A"—Cadets Samuel Grossman and Hyman Rubenstein.

Company "B"—Cadets Perry Schwing and James Butler.

Company "C"—Cadets Walter Shafran and Vincent Sherman.

The Sanger Memorial for Excellence in Band and Field Music, was won by Cadet Leopold Port.

The Gold Medal for Excellence in Band and Field Music, was won by Cadet Isidore Dietz.

The Principal's Gold Medal, for the best drill officer, was awarded to Cadet Captain Rudolph Behrens.

There was an exhibition of Sewing and Millinery in the girls' sewing room in the morning.

In the chapel, on the evening of Thursday, May 14th, the Fanwood Literary Association enjoyed a playlet called "A Country School," given by the Fifth Oral Class (Girls) taught by Miss Cecelia E. Otis.

The performance was really good and pleased those present very much.

The following is the program in full:—

Among the spectators at the Track and Field Meet, on Friday, there were two newly-weds from Boston, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rosenstein (nee Eva Shraier) and Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Marcus (nee Elizabeth Freeman). They were both married on the same day—Tuesday, May 12th. They are all products of the Horace Mann School. Mr. Rosenstein is a clerk in the Post Office in Boston, and Mr. Marcus is a pressman, employed in a Boston printery. They are going to see as much of New York, Philadelphia, and other cities during their honeymoon to remember for a long time. They all can talk in the sign-language, but at the same time gesticulate by the lip-movement as do the majority of the oralists. Mr. Irving Simon, with his wife and little two-year-old daughter, Elizabeth, were also here. Mr. Simon is a former Fanwood boy, and was pleased to visit his former school again. He presented the Fanwood Athletic Association Fund with $5.

Last Saturday, Cadet First Sergeant Kaple Greenberg was suddenly called home, on account of his beloved mother's death. She was buried in Springfield, Mass., on Mother's Day. We extend our heartfelt sympathy to Kaple.

Mr. Jack Seltzer, a graduate of a few years ago, was a caller in the JOURNAL office on Thursday afternoon. Recently he has been doing over-time work, and as the Typographical Union's new rule compels printer to take a day off when they have accumulated 8 hours over time, so he came here, and several of the older boys who remember him as a pupil were glad to see him.

Miss Mary Murihead is rapidly improving from an injury to her leg, caused by a fall, and has resumed her studies.

DETROIT.

Having been duly selected as regular correspondent from Detroit by the Editor of the JOURNAL, I respectfully suggest that the Detroit deaf and the deaf in the vicinity of Detroit, help your humble reporter in getting the news regarding the deaf, big or little. Without the help of the deaf it is a hard task for ye reporter to write up accurate news.

The entertainment given by Detroit Division, No. 3, N. F. S. D., Saturday, May 16th, 1925, at the Board of Commerce, the following was the program:—

Yankee Doodle—Miss Swanson and Mr. Des Champlain, Flint, Mich. A Century of Peace—Mrs. Alex Lobsinger.

The True Story of Lafayette—Mr. F. M. Kaufman, Flint, Mich.

Mother o' Mine—Mr. Oren Des Champlain, Flint, Mich.

Stories—Mr. Asa Stutsman.

Stunt—Mr. Tripp and Mr. Des Champlain, both of Flint, Mich.

"We'll never let our Old Flag Fall"—Mrs. Alex Lobsinger.

Peter N. Hellers was Chairman, and the first five Frats Committee.

Mrs. Rudolph Stark's contemplated trip to the South has been postponed until after the Flint Reunion in June. The sudden sickness of her favorite uncle was responsible. May 7th was the second anniversary of the death of her husband—old friends of the late Rudolph gathered together and held memorial service.

A Mother's Lost Son

By Gordon B. Allen

In the still, cool darkness of night,
No moon nor stars were shining bright,
As I strolled down the village street,
A poor, ill-clad youth I chanced to meet.
He asked of me, "Is tomorrow Mother's Day?"
"Yes," said I, then I heard him lowly say:
"Dear God, where is my mother tonight?
I am her lost son, let me see the light
Of her face, the yearning in her heart;
Let me see her smile, my Mother's smile
Of grace."

"O Giver of Dreams, of beautiful dreams,
Let me dream tonight the dream of dreams;
Let me be a child just once more,
And brush back her gray hair so hoar."

"O Giver of Dreams, let my Mother dream
That my heart and hers will together beam;
That I will return to her arms some day
So she can feel that I'm there to stay."

As he slept her vision before him stood,
The very type of aging motherhood,
Then nearer to him she slowly came,
His little mother, timid old and lame,
With a small gray bonnet much out of date,
And her face was oddly lined with etching
fate,
And her work-worn hands, bare, that clasp
An old hand bag he saw in the days gone past.
When morning came he was filled with bliss,
For in his dream he did his mother kiss.

A Great Forest in Africa

Many hundreds of years ago countries like China and the Continent of Europe were covered with forests. As time passed on, and the people grew in number, the woods were cut down, so that houses might be built, and the woods used by man. As no new trees were planted the land grew more and more barren, so that in a country like England there is not much forest land, and those that exist are very small indeed when we compare them with those in Africa or in South America. We could walk through most of them in the course of two or three hours, and so get a good idea of its trees shrubs, as well as of its wild animals.

If, however, we were to visit a great forest in Africa, we should find it several times larger than the whole of Great Britain, and it would take weeks to travel through it. One of these great forests was explored by Stanley, a famous traveler; and it would be worth our while to find out what he tells us of his strange and wonderful journey through it some years ago.

Now just glance at Africa, and find the River Congo. That fine river runs through the heart of this great forest, and much of its course was first made known to us by Stanley. The country that is watered by the River Congo is known as the Congo State, and belongs to Belgium.

Stanley tells us that the trees in the forest are often 200 feet in height. They stand so close together, and their leaves are so thick and glossy, that the light of the sun is quite shut out. For days and days he went his way as if it were quite dark; and only now and again would a ray of light find its way through the foliage.

The trees seem fastened together by endless creepers, so that they remind one of a fleet of ships in a dock. Underneath the trees, in the deep shade, is a close undergrowth; while on the branches of the trees are lichens, beautiful orchids, and other rare plants. Amid these flowers the wild bees hum, the fierce wasps dart, and the gay butterflies sail in thousands.

The ground is black with a rich soil, like that of a hothouse. The air is stifling with the great heat and the climate is deadly to the white man. The streams are very many, and sometimes their waters go rushing along, while at other times lilies and duckweed float on their surface.

This great African forest is one of the rainy regions of the world. Sometimes the rain falls in torrents for days together, so that the land seems to be drowned. With the rain there will often be dazzling lightning and great tempests.

Perhaps you can now form some idea of this strange shadowland, where from morning to night there is an awful darkness, lit now and again by a ray of sunlight or a flash of lightning.

This, then, was the forest through which Stanley marched, and about which he wrote so much. Perhaps you will now like to know something about the people who live in this forest. There are many tribes of little people called pigmies who live in these mighty woods. They live far apart from each other, and are cannibals, that is, eaters of human flesh.

These pigmies are very quick with their weapons, and killed several of Stanley's followers. They have small, keen eyes, and are very correct in their aim. Their weapons are very deadly, for they are dipped in poison.

The animal life of the Congo forest is very strange and wonderful. There are huge animals, as well as the most tiny insects; and amid the undergrowth, the traveller must be careful lest he disturb the serpents. One very interesting fact to notice about the animals is that they take the color or appearance of the leaves or trees on which they move. Thus the mantis is just like a leaf, and the branching stick-insect is like a green twig. Some of the butterflies seem flowers till they fly,

And others fold their wings and look like dead leaves. The spiders appear to be berries of the bushes on which they hang; and the crocodile might pass for a great muddy log in the river.

The forest of the Congo yields much good timber, such as ebony and red wood. From the elephants we get ivory; and palm oil is obtained in many parts. The chief product, however, is india-rubber, which is the milky juice of a plant. A hole is made in the bark, and the sap flows into a wooden vessel. The African rubber is in great demand, and fetches a high price, as it is now used for many purposes — The Canadian.

Some Human Body Statistics

We have more than 600 muscles in our bodies and there are about 1000 miles of blood vessels with over 500 important arteries. If the skin on one person's body were spread out in one sheet it would cover approximately 16 square feet. In the skin are more than two and a half million sweat glands. The lungs are made up of tiny cells similar to those of a honeycomb. There are ever seven millions of these, and if their surfaces could be spread out on something flat they would cover a space of about 2000 square feet. When a person has reached his allotted 70 years, his heart, it is claimed, has given over two and a half million beats and has lifted over 500,000 tons of blood.

The average crop of hair is said to contain a quarter of a million hairs. Inside of the head is the brain and running out from it is the nervous system. This system contains about three billion nerve cells. The number of white corpuscles in the blood is estimated to be 30 billion, while the number of red corpuscles is thought to be more than 180 trillion. The average person's skin throws off about a quart of sweat on a cool day, and almost twice as much in 10 minutes if the person is terribly frightened. The kidneys dispose of from one to three quarts of fluid daily. It may not seem possible, but almost three pints of saliva are swallowed every 24 hours and the stomach generates from five to 10 quarts of gastric juice every day. — The Pathfinder
